

Advocating for Veterans' Health Care

'I want younger generations of veterans to know that help is available through the VFW and how to find it'

Sep 23, 2024

Iraq War veteran Sam Wybenga is #StillServing by helping veterans access affordable medical care with assistance from the VFW.

Wybenga was diagnosed with a brain tumor in 2022. As a Gold Legacy Life member of VFW Post 1 in Denver, Colorado, he advocates for veterans by sharing his experience navigating the medical claims and health care landscape. Today, Wybenga urges others to contact VFW Accredited Service Officers for claims assistance.

"I want all veterans to know they can receive help at no charge instead of going through an expensive law firm," he said.

Wybenga has made it his mission to help veterans save thousands of dollars and make it clear that they do not have to face anything alone or pay a high price for support.

"I want younger generations of veterans to know that help is available through the VFW and how to find it," he said.
