“President Bush was highly admired within the veteran community and beyond,” said VFW National Commander B.J. Lawrence. “He served as a Navy fighter pilot in the World War II Pacific Theater, as a U.S. congressman, U.S. ambassador, as CIA director, then vice president to President Ronald Reagan for eight years before being elected president, where he would win a resounding war against Iraq and end the Cold War. Our 41st president was also the last of eight presidents to earn the title of VFW member,” he said. President Bush was a life member of the VFW Department of Texas.

“On behalf of the entire 1.6 million-member VFW family, our deepest condolences go out to the entire Bush family, and thank them for their strength and support that enabled him to continue serving our great nation for so long. Bravo Zulu.”
